Tree Report

To Whom it may concern,

I have been asked by Dave Barratt to give a report on the health of a Sycamore tree located in the rear garden of 61 Bretby Hollows.

The tree is in a lower section of the rear garden and dominates the majority of the garden. In the past there was another tree close to the sycamore which has been removed however this has left the tree unbalanced with most of the growth on one side. There are a number of cavities in some of the large limbs which have signs of decay and could potentially fail. The tree is not really suited for the size of the garden and is taking a lot of light from the garden and also the house. I last visited the property in September 2020 and since then it has put on a considerable amount of growth which is adding more weight to the limbs.

In my opinion the tree has out grown its situation and should be removed and a new tree of a suitable species should be planted to replace it.

Yours Sincerely

Simon Manning
